International Window Cleaning Association

About TS

The International Window Cleaning Association (IWCA) awards the Training Specialist designation to individuals who have demonstrated their commitment to Training and Safety in the window cleaning industry through their accomplishments in leadership of the industry, continuing commitment to its educational programs and participation in the IWCA and other industry organizations.

IWCA's TS program is designed for the window cleaning and/or safety training professional who is dedicated to providing the most current safety training education to their staff, but who does not participate in field work every day. The TS is a 3 year renewal based on PDU's earned per year.

The certification program consists of three parts:

- Completing the IWCA Safety Training Certification Program in any field.
- Earning at least 70 points through association memberships and other training
- One-time $500 application fee.

By earning the TS designation, an individual reaffirms his or her commitment to the importance of proper safety and training for those working within the window cleaning field.

IWCA Safety Certification

This program consists of three online exams to help prepare you for the final proctored exam. After successfully passing all three online exams with a score of 90 percent or higher, candidates will be qualified to take the final exam.

We recommend candidates attend a classroom review session in conjunction with the regional safety training sessions followed by the proctored exam. Once the candidate passes the final proctored exam, he or she will be recognized as being IWCA Safety Certified for five years. After that time, the certified window cleaner can continue to renew his or her certification through an online renewal procedure. Candidates may enroll for the IWCA Safety Certification program via the IWCA Web site. The cost for earning the IWCA Safety Certification is $175-$300 per individual.

Points toward Certification

In addition to the successful completion of IWCA Safety Certification, candidates must accumulate a minimum of 70 additional points by providing documented evidence of their expertise and/or involvement in their overall industry. These points may be earned through membership in other industry related organizations and completion of additional safety courses as indicated on the application form.
